Q: How to retrieve a specific element of the current video? I'm using AVfoundation framework and AVURLAsset to work with a video. And I've been able to retrieve the video from the folder. I want to play the video in full screen but I'm not sure how to get the current video and the current video property.

- (void)launchVideo {
    NSURL *url = [NSURL URLWithString:[NSBundle mainBundle] pathForResource:@"Big Buck Bunny" ofType:@"mov"];
    AVURLAsset *videoAsset = [[AVURLAsset alloc] initWithURL:url options:nil];
    AVPlayerItem *playerItem = [AVPlayerItem playerItemWithAsset:videoAsset];
    AVPlayer *player = [AVPlayer playerWithPlayerItem:playerItem];
    player.actionAtItemEnd = AVPlayerActionAtItemEndNone;
    player.actionAtItemEnd = AVPlayerActionAtItemEndNone;
    AVPlayerLayer *playerLayer = [[AVPlayerLayer alloc] initWithPlayer:player];
    playerLayer.frame = self.view.bounds;
    [self.view.layer addSublayer:playerLayer];
    [self.videoPlayer prepareToPlay];
    NSError *error = nil;
    [self.videoPlayer play];

A: First, you need to observe `videoPlayerDidBeginPlayingNotification` to know when the video begins playing. Second, in your code, you are creating a `AVPlayerLayer`, but never add it to the view's layer. You need to add it and assign it to the view's layer before you begin playing, like this:

There isn't a lot of game play and the game freezes after every death making a lot of hassle to continue. The game is for hardcore players. The online doesn't seem to work all the time and online play is very slow. What should I do? I played the game for 6 hours, but it seemed like I played 1 hour. It is like some enemy keep sucking time and the game freezes every 30 seconds. It is not fun and I was VERY disappointed. It's a shame that a game of this quality get more than 20 minutes on the Play store. Please go to Google Play and post a 5 star review or just don't buy the game. For the price of $10.99, it should have been longer. I want my money back and I want a refund. I will never pay to download another MOBA from uPlay. I paid $10.99 for 7 hours of game time. It's not worth it. I'm doing this for the Nothings great. It was the best RPG I've played after Dragon Quest Legends, and its online never froze! Thank you for making a game like this, it's not easy! I really hope uPlay will run the game offline for those that like to play their games offline only. That's why I bought the game. I loved this game, but because of uPlay, I won't buy any game made by them. I felt very bad at first, but you can check them out here: Thanks for reading. i suggest u play the demo before to get an idea, then after try it at full price. If u r a fan of mOBAs i suggest you play the base game and not the demo. I liked the tutorial. It was very good. ► Features ● Gameplay Players must take control of a Tarnished living in the Lands Between. If you play a Tarnished of the Logia, you're considered to be an Elden Lord. Through feats of arrogance and recklessness, your Tarnished will be entrusted with the power of the Elden Ring, and as you ascend in the world, you will gradually become an Elden Lord. ► Development Team To create the ultimate fantasy experience, we worked with producer Katsura Hashino, whose experience in the fields of RPGs and visual novels has allowed us to create a fantasy drama with which you can play in a unique way. The staff has carefully developed the story and deepened the themes and characters so that you can finally experience a fantasy drama that doesn't happen all the time. ► Prologue Players must take control of a Tarnished living in the Lands Between. If you play a Tarnished of the Logia, you're considered to be an Elden Lord. Through feats of arrogance and recklessness, your Tarnished will be entrusted with the power of the Elden Ring, and as you ascend in the world, you will gradually become an Elden Lord. ● Vibration-like gameplay Players can perform various actions by taking control of their Tarnished, and you can experience the feeling of controlling a living with the power of the Elden Ring. You can freely switch between Tarnished during the game and use the full complement of different types of battle. Behavior of endogenous indole-3-acetic acid in maize (Zea mays L.) during the process of development. Indole-3-acetic acid (IAA) content of maize roots and shoots under exposure of different light periods (L(1), 3h; L(2), 1h) was examined. L(1) and L(2) differed in light intensity and substrate absorption, the formation of which was monitored by C(14)photosynthesis. IAA in green parts of shoots and roots of maize was accumulated during all the three developmental stages and was higher in low light. Moreover, the IAA content was correlated with the accumulation of sucrose in the L(2) group. IAA in roots of plants under high light was accumulated during the last developmental stage, and this accumulation was increased by sucrose. Publicid

Much has been said about President Donald Trump going in for a softball lob on a very divisive Supreme Court pick: "Judge Brett Kavanaugh is a fine man, an excellent man," Trump said during a Cabinet meeting on Wednesday. "He is a fine intellect, brilliant, respected, loved by everybody. And we're gonna have a lot of fun with him, believe me. I think so." Let's give Trump the benefit of the doubt on this one — he's for this nominee. But on Wednesday, Trump told ABC News' George Stephanopoulos that Kavanaugh should be confirmed anyway, despite a couple of bad tweets from before. "It's going to be a very tough thing to try to beat somebody with this kind of a life and this kind of an impeccable record," said Trump. "Actually, it's gonna be a very tough and nasty and expensive process, but he's very well qualified, so I am for it." In doing a bit of research, I came across an interesting clip from 1992, when Republican Senate Judiciary Committee chairman Arlen Specter seemed to support establishing a line of conservatives on the Supreme Court. This may seem out of character for a "decent" conservative like Specter, but in fact, this is not unprecedented at all. With five liberal-leaning justices now on the Supreme Court, those justices have proven relatively unscrupulous in the past in their decisions. Fortunately, there have been a dozen or so moderate, commercially conservative, or alternatively slightly liberal-leaning justices throughout history. The problem is that all modern presidents have followed a singular strategy, surrounding themselves with only as many nominees as
